STREAMING GUIDE

Our concert livestreams are viewable on Desktops, Laptops, Tablets, Smartphones, and SmartTVs.

HOW TO WATCH

New West Symphony's 2020-21 Season concerts will be broadcast live on our YouTube channel (using an unlisted link that will be emailed to you prior to the streaming time).

You do not need a YouTube account to watch the event, but you will need to create an account or log-in to comment via live chat.

If you would like to receive an automatic reminder about the event, you can click "Set Reminder" on the YouTube event page.

For the best viewing experience, we recommend streaming the video on your SmartTV's YouTube app or using a Google Chromecast, Amazon Fire TV Stick, or Apple TV device.

To stream YouTube content to your TV, make sure that your streaming device and SmartTV are on the same WiFi network. Open the video link and click the "Play On TV" button.

To stream from a phone or computer through Google Chromecast or Apple TV, make sure you are connected to the same WiFi network and are on the correct TV input. Click the stream button on your phone, tablet, or computer, and the video should appear on your TV. Once the video is playing, you can use your computer or phone to interact with the live chat.

If you do not receive the YouTube link prior to the streaming time, please contact the NWS Office at (805) 497-5800 or (866) 776-8400.
